YTF Exploration Consulting

- Prospect review or evaluation is anchored on the premise that prospect viability depends on the regional context or background within which the prospect sits / exists. The idea is that each prospect is unique, but belong in a regional space characterised by certain petroleum systems elements. Hence, each prospect is evaluated uniquely, but through the lens of regional understanding of where the prospect sits in the big picture.

consulting@ytfexploration.com

...supporting confident exploration decisions!